12	OVC with DHS, DOS TIP Office, ACF, EOUSA, and COPS	Host a forum to hear from survivors of trafficking about effective, strategic, and meaningful ways to engage survivor groups		X					Complete	Status was complete in FY14.
12	DHS	Engage nongovernmental stakeholders, including survivors, in meetings twice a year	X	X	X	X	X	X	In Process/ Ongoing	The Blue Campaign has a robust outreach program. In addition to its public information materials, it hosts several stakeholder events each year. These victim-centric engagements provide a forum for dialogue with federal agencies, nongovernmental organizations (NGOs), and private industry to collaborate in efforts to combat human trafficking. During FY16, the Blue Campaign also hosted several engagements in which state and local government agencies participated. USCIS also hosted numerous engagements to highlight immigration relief/ protections.

12	ACF, HSI VAP, FBI, and OVC	Integrate survivor experiences and perspectives into training and technical assistance materials	X	X	X	X	X	X	In Process/ Ongoing	Federal agencies continue to integrate survivor expertise throughout various materials and efforts. For example, survivor consultants engage in a significant number of onsite technical assistance deliveries through OVC's Training and Technical Assistance Center, deliver training as part of annual FBI trainings at the supervisor and field levels, and present at various ACF-sponsored events. In FY16, OVC worked with survivor partners to pilot a professional development training curriculum that will ultimately be delivered by trafficking survivors to other survivors, and ACF included survivor-informed services as part of the program requirements for the FY16 Domestic Victims of Human Trafficking (DVHT) programs.
12	EOUSA	Distribute guidance to the USAO task forces encouraging survivor input where appropriate		X					Complete	Status was complete in FY15.
12	ACF	Explore the creation of a public platform to receive ongoing feedback on the quality of services, including gaps in service and challenges to service delivery		X					Complete	Status was complete in FY14.

OVERARCHING THEMES: STANDARD OF CARE

PAGE	AGENCY	ACTION	FY13	FY14	FY15	FY16	FY17	BEYOND	STATUS	COMMENT
14	OVC	Publish Achieving Excellence: Model Standards for Serving Victims and Survivors of Crime , which includes program, competency, and ethical standards for crime victim service providers		X					Complete	In August 2016, OVC published Achieving Excellence: Model Standards for Serving Victims and Survivors of Crime . The publication is available on the OVC website at www.ovc.gov/model-standards/ . This publication addresses issues relevant for all types of victim service organizations, and can be used as a capacity-building resource for organizations serving victims of human trafficking. In October 2016, OVC also hosted a web forum to answer questions about the new resource. The discussion transcript can be found at https://ovc.ncjrs.gov/ovcproviderforum/ .
14	ACF with DHS and DOJ	Identify minimum standards of care required by grant recipients			X				Delayed	Delayed due to staff capacity.

The USAID Office of the Inspector General receives reports, including those reported anonymously, on violations of the CTIP Code of Conduct and conducts investigations as needed. USAID disseminated information on the September 2015 Procurement Executive Bulletin (PEB) providing contracting officers and acquisition staff with guidance concerning the implementation of the new FAR rule titled "Ending Trafficking in Persons" (FAR Case 2013-11) to all USAID personnel through an October 2015 Agency Notice. All USAID contract templates have been updated with the revised clause 52.222-50 language in the new rule. Since the FAR Rule increases protections against trafficking with regard to government acquisitions and not assistance awards, in April 2016, USAID issued an agency notice informing personnel of revisions to internal agency policy to increase protections against trafficking in grants and cooperative agreements. Reinforcing this notice, also in April 2016, the agency issued a PEB to all procurement officers titled "Trafficking in Persons Guidance for Assistance."
